

What support can you choose from?

Faith Regen Foundation offers a range of free services to unemployed people. This programme is funded by the London Development Agency and the European Social Fund and is a key part of the Government's aim to give people the support they need to find the right job.

One-to-one support

Receive support from your friendly and professional personal advisor

Better-off calculations

We can show you how much financially better-off you will be in work

Free job-hunting facilities

You can use our computers, the internet, phones and newspapers whenever you like

Expert job-hunting advice

We can help you find and apply for jobs, write a good CV, call employers and prepare for interviews

Advice and guidance

We can support you with advice on debt management, basic skills and budgeting

Continuing support

We can continue to provide support once you have found a job, including filling in benefits forms
